Tim is a Partner in the Litigation Department. He founded his previous firm's Public International Law Practice and has acted for a number of governments and parastatals, particularly in the developing world. This work has included representation of states before the International Court of Justice in the Hague in boundary disputes and in international arbitration disputes.

He has extensive experience of asset tracing, both in the commercial/insolvency sector and, currently, on behalf of states. Listed as a leading individual in public international law in Chambers and The Legal 500 Directories for the past several years.

Tim has recently been named as a leader in the field of Administrative and Public Law (including Judicial Review) for his practice by the legal directory UK Legal Experts 2009.

Notable Experience

- Tim has acted for the Government of Nigeria since the mid 1970's when he was involved in the state immunity cases arising out of the cement crisis. He led the team advising Nigeria in the boundary dispute with Cameroon before the International Court of Justice. The team also assisted Nigeria in its negotiation of maritime boundary treaties with Equatorial Guinea, São Tomé e Príncipe and Benin and continues to advise on a number of national and international boundaries relating both to Nigeria and other parts of the world.
- Tim and his colleagues represented Botswana in their boundary dispute with Namibia before the ICJ.
- Tim was involved in several high profile cases in the 1980's and 1990's including the Lloyd's/PCW litigation, the Barlow Clowes liquidation and BCCI.
- Tim is currently acting for several governments and anti-corruption commissions recovering assets looted by former Heads of State and high-ranking government officials.
- Tim has advised governments on anti money-laundering and proceeds of crime legislation.

Recent Speaking Engagements and Publications

- He has written and spoken at many seminars around the world on international boundary issues, and on state asset recovery and related topics.
